Direct Nomination of President Favored by Wilson in Inaugural Address.

Senator Pomerene of Ohio is giving session of Congress. In his first message to Congress President Wilson advocated the enactment of a presidential primary law, but since that time the matter has been allowed to rest.

In his message the President indicated his belief that the functions of the national political conventions should be changed materially. If such a suggestion were adopted it is believed that the national conventions would be more careful what went into the platforms adopted by them and that promises would not be made unless it was the intention of carrying them out.

It is expected that strong opposition to a federal primary law would be found among members of Congress from the southern states, where e croachment upon the states' rights frowned upon.

-Are Charming Table Decorations The "Lily Ponds" are the latest type of centerpiece for the table. They are made in plain and cut crystal and in pottery of soft green and mat effects-are shallow in depth and range from eight to fifteen inches in diameter. Many artistic floral effects can be obtained by the arrangement of flowers or ferns in the center by the use of the "Floral Aid," which supports the stems, and these are surrounded by shorter stemmed flowers-the "pond" effect being obtained by the use of pebbles and a few small gold fish.

The "Floral Aid" are flat crystal or pottery pieces of quaint designs in fish, turtle or ducks, etc., with a number of holes extending through them, in which the flowers will stand erect. Another variety of "Floral Aid" for long-stemmed flowers is made of adjustable non-rust-
